Road closure will affect business, traders argue

By FRANCESCA EVANS
francesca@pemedia.co.uk

AN angry Lyme Regis trader has objected to a proposed six-week road closure of Church Street, saying it will have a negative effect on his business.

Antonio Gravili, of Church Street restaurant Antonio's Trattoria, said the planned road closure in September for work to a private property would cut the peak season short and would affect many businesses in the town.

Dorset County Council is currently proposing to close the road for up to six weeks from September 14th for "desperately needed" repairs to one house. The council will also be taking advantage of the closure by resurfacing the road and hopes any other work needing to be done in Church Street will also be completed during this time to minimise disruption.

However, Mr Gravili has argued that the road should not be closed during September when the town is often still busy with holidaymakers.

After receiving a letter from a builder notifying him of the proposed works, Mr Gravili contacted the View and said: "I am disgusted that this is happening in September. I understand they originally applied for August but it was pushed back to September, but that is still bad.

"We are going to lose business. We only have three months of good trade and now it will be cut to two. It will affect the whole town."

■ BUSINESS group chairman Tony Colston argued work should be done in off-peak months

Mr Gravili was also concerned that the road closure would possibly over-run the stated six-week period and have an impact on business during the October half term.

Tony Colston, owner of By The Bay restaurant on Marine Parade and chairman of Lyme Regis Business Group, also expressed concerns that the closure would have a negative effect on local traders.

"It's unfortunate that they should do this during the season," he said.

"Works of this magnitude should be confined to the winter months or February or March, obviously avoiding the Easter period, and should be scheduled to have a minimal impact on residents, visitors and businesses. If traders have already had a bad season this can really have an effect on business.

"This is also going to affect footfall to the Tourist Information Centre and the Marine Theatre, so it is not just businesses that will suffer but local fa-

60 SECOND INTERVIEW

TASMIN Chandler, from Bridport, describes herself as a 'Jill of all trades', having worked in music, festivals and events, journalism, parks management, fashion and start-up businesses. She has also lived in lots of places, including London, Melbourne, Sydney, Perth, Los Angeles and New York, but is now happily settled and working to create an exemplary local food system for small producers and the community.

● TELL us about your love of locally sourced food...
There are many reasons – personal, cultural, physical, economical and, simply, because it tastes best. Having spent a lot of time in Australia and coastal California, I've always loved having access to and eating fresh, healthy food and food politics and nutrition are lifelong interests. Bridport has all the elements required for an ideal food system – i.e. top quality, local growers, producers and farmers plus community and business support for them. It's inspired me since I first moved here. We already know how lucky we are and I'd like to make our food system even better.

● WHAT about the report you produced for Communities Living Sustainably (CLS)?
The report resulted from a series of face-to-face interviews with Bridport catering businesses about their food sourcing habits; also seasonality, waste management and environmental impact. The process provided many valuable insights into Bridport's local food system – particularly how and where it can be improved.

● IN the report you talk about working with supermarkets?
When I see a problem or a lack, I automatically start searching for ways to solve the problem or fill the gap. It's the way my brain and character work. One of the biggest obstacles to achieving a thriving,local food system and supporting our growers and farmers is our reliance upon supermarkets. They're cheap and convenient so people become dependent upon them. Public awareness of the negatives of supermarkets is increasing and I'd like to work together with – rather than against - supermarkets to come up with proactive ways they can support the community around them. I also want to work to create local alternatives, which can compete both cost-wise and convenience-wise. I like win/win scenarios.

● AS Bridport Food Festival co-ordinator what does your role entail?
The role is varied and enjoyable. Along with some administrative work, it involves pulling together our best local producers (we work on a 15 mile radius, unless we find a gap) and showcasing the wonderful range and quality of food we produce. We had a brilliant festival this year and I'm already excited for 2016. This year I wanted to focus a little more on health and education, so ensured more fresh and vegetarian food was available and introduced the GYO Patch to show people how simple it is to grow their own fruit, salad and veg. This emphasis will be expanded upon next year. Also, I wanted to involve more of the younger, up-and-coming producers and vendors doing brilliant, innovative things with food.

● WHY do you think that Bridport sources so much produce locally?
Because we have the best quality food produced locally! Truly, we're spoiled. From fruit and veg to ethically-reared meats to cheeses to preserves to baked goods – it's all here. Businesses also have personal, often long-standing relationships with their suppliers and the benefits of this are myriad. Provenance and quality are assured. There is an impressive level of awareness and support for our local producers from Bridport's businesses and the community.

● CLS are producing a food map for Bridport, could you tell us a bit about that?
The Local Food Map provides an effective way to highlight the businesses in Bridport sourcing locally, responsibly and sustainably. CLS's primary focus is sustainability and food plays an enormous role, we all have to eat. If people change their shopping and eating habits, the benefits ripple outward – locally in the community and, more broadly, reducing any negative impact on the environment as a whole. The map will guide people who are conscious of these issues where to eat and shop in town, including a local food shopping list, information about community food projects and some pointers about how we can improve our habits. An updated, more complete version will be produced in spring 2016.

● DO you think the people of Bridport and the surrounding areas know just how sustainable the food in Bridport is?
Many do, many don't. I know people here love great food and it's much easier to appreciate where your food comes from when surrounded by farms and orchards. Bridport is quite exceptional in both its bounty of fresh produce and its community's awareness. Something I'd like to avoid is preaching to the converted. Ideally, more attention would be given to those whose access to and awareness of the importance of local food and the health benefits of cooking from scratch, for example, is limited by lack of education, money, cultural habits and other factors.

● AT your ultimate dinner party, what would you serve?
The food would be Italian in style prepared by an excellent cook using local ingredients. There would be chewy bread, Pugliese olives and Capreolus charcuterie to start, with finest extra virgin olive oil and aged balsamic. Salad from Trill Farm (ideally with saffron seeds). Meat would be goat or venison, fish would be monkfish or seabass. Lovely, fresh local veg and lots of tomato and basil. Desserts would be tiramisu, gelato, lemon tart and something rich, dark and chocolatey. And to complete my ultimate dinner… the perfect coffee. Always.

Rock 'n' roll to scare off gulls!

By GEOFF BAKER
edit@pemedia.co.uk

TOP Lyme Regis chef Mark Hix has discovered the secret to stopping Britain's seagull problem – attack the birds with rock 'n' roll.

Hix has hired gull-scaring guitarists to keep the flying pests away from the food and music festival, which he organises every September in Lyme Regis.

"It's only rock 'n' roll but they hate it," said Hix, whose up-market Oyster & Fish House restaurant in Lister Gardens has recently been plagued by gulls stealing food from diners on the terrace.

"Lyme has tried everything to keep the gulls from nicking the chips and sandwiches off visitors eating on the beach and the only thing that has worked is loud rock music – the gulls can't stand it!

"The gulls are especially scared off by rock 'n' roll songs by bands like the Rolling Stones, Status Quo and The Who. A lot of independent research has revealed that gulls just don't like loud music and when we tried it out we found it worked, the gulls just scattered as soon as the music started."

Every year since 2013 Hix has been inviting guitarists of all ages and abilities to Lyme's record-breaking Guitars On The Beach event that accompanies his Food Rocks Festival, this year to be held on September 5th and 6th.

Last year more than 3,000 guitarists showed up to all play together, setting the UK record for Britain's biggest guitar band.

This year, to keep away the gulls, Hix has told the guitarists to play it loud with the record-breaking song to be "My Sharona" by one-hot-wonders The Knack.

"We're appealing to everyone coming this year to crank it up," said Hix.

"The house band which leads the crowd will be playing at volume 11 and we want everybody playing along on the sand to play as loud as possible.

"We've been experimenting with different songs and it's the rock stuff that scares them best – although they don't seem very bothered by 'Gulls Just Like To Have Fun'!"

Council hopes to keep Church Street disruption to minimum

cilities too."

Kevin Cheleda, Dorset County Council's traffic team manger, said: "We are pulling together all the works that need to happen on Church Street to keep the disruption to local residents and businesses to as little as possible.

"We have had a request from a property on this road that desperately needs to re-mortar and, due to the narrow nature of the road, needs a road closure to carry out this work. This lime rendering has to happen before we get any frost. This process will take five to six weeks.

"While the street is closed we will be able to resurface the road itself.

"The state of the property's rendering means that if this isn't planned soon an emergency road closure may be put in place on safety grounds. The current plan, dependent upon listed building consent, is to close the road from September 14th and to be finished in time for the October half-term.

"We know this isn't an ideal situation, but we are working with all parties to try and keep disruption to a minimum."

■ DOUBLE GOLD! Bob and Cynch McHardy and Shirley and Colin Barker pictured together at a recent twinning event

Two Lyme couples mark 50th anniversaries on same day

TWO Lyme Regis couples celebrated their golden wedding anniversaries last week, having been married just half an hour apart 50 years ago.

Colin and Shirley Barker and Bob and Cynch McHardy both celebrated their anniversaries on Friday. They were married just half an hour apart on August 14th 1965, with Mr and Mrs Barker's ceremony taking place at the former congregational church in Coombe Street, while Mr and Mrs McHardy were married in Stockland Church, near Honiton.

Colin, a Marine Commando originally from Lyme, met Shirley after she moved to the town from Norwich as a teenager. Following his career in the Royal Marines, Colin went on to work as a factory manager in Chard before breaking his back when serving in the fire crew, and later worked as a porter at the local hospital before eventually opening a shoe shop in Broad Street, which he ran until his retirement, while Shirley worked in a number of local shops.

The couple have four children, 10 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren, and Colin is one of Lyme's two macebearers.

Bob, originally from Crewe, and Cynch who was born in Bodmin, met in Stockland when Bob moved to the village aged 20, and the couple were married there a year later.

They moved to Lyme Regis around 19 years ago and have two children and five grandchildren, but also fostered several teenagers during their married life.

They run St Andrew's B&B in Uplyme Road and Bob is currently chairman of the Lyme Regis/St George's Twinning Association.

Colin and Shirley marked their anniversary with a family party and a holiday to France, while Bob and Cynch hosted a charity evening at the Woodmead Halls on Saturday (see page 7) instead of a traditional party.

Woodroffe A-level students succeed across the board

STUDENTS from the Woodroffe School in Lyme Regis once again achieved an excellent set of results at A-level this year, with consistently high grades across all subjects.

A total of 51 per cent of exam entries were graded A*, A or B, with 23 per cent at A* or A.

There were some outstanding individual A-level performances, with two students, Ele Saltmarsh (A*, A*, A*, A) and Frances Penrose (A*, A*, A*) securing places to study at Oxbridge colleges. Fran is going to Cambridge to study engineering while Ele plans to attend Oxford to study biological sciences.

Jamie Jeffery achieved two A* grades and two As; Harry Robson achieved three As; and Shannon Allen, Eddie Beardwood, Sam Farrow, Anne Morgan and Mary Penman each received A*, A and B.

Results at AS level were also impressive, with 40 per cent of students gaining As or Bs, and 64 per cent achieving C or above.

Again, there were some excellent individual results: Rosa Sawer achieved four A grades and a B; Annie Arnold, Hanna Bramley, Ewan Pedder and Rory Townsend all achieved four A grades; Eleanor Ohlsen gained three As and a B, and Maisie Dascombe three A grades. Hanna Bramley and Ewan Pedder also achieved A* grades in the Extended Project Qualification.

Woodroffe headteacher Dr Richard Steward said: "Students have done superbly this year, helping the school to achieve another set of excellent results. I am delighted to see so many individuals achieving A* and A grades.

"It is also pleasing to note the consistency in results across all subject areas; for a medium-sized, comprehensive school in a rural area, Woodroffe offers an excellent range of subject choices at A-level and it is good to see students performing well in all of them. It is particularly encouraging to see top class performance in both the arts and sciences.

"Students have a fantastic time in the sixth form at Woodroffe but they also manage to achieve well academically. Ele Saltmarsh and Frances Penrose have done exceptionally well to gain places to study at Oxbridge colleges but there are students leaving Woodroffe to take up places at many of the best universities in the country.

"I am pleased to say that the vast majority of students met their target grades and secured their first choices of university places. We all wish them well and are confident that they are on course to succeed at degree level.

"With constant changes to examination specifications and accountability measures, this has been a difficult year for sixth formers, and it is a tribute to the professionalism and expertise of staff at Woodroffe that students have been guided so successfully through very turbulent waters."

■ BROTHERLY LOVE: Brothers Harvey and Jake Causley were able to pick up their AS and A-level results together

■ FAMILY SUPPORT: Top student Ele Saltmarsh (far left) was joined by her family to open her results and is now off to Oxford

■ TOP GRADES: Anne Morgan received an A* in art and design, A in textiles and B in English language

■ ALL SMILES: Frances Penrose (pictured centre) was among the top achieving students at Woodroffe with three A* grades

Uplyme volunteers hope to make area more 'Dementia Friendly'

By PETER HODGES
peter@pemedia.co.uk

COMMUNITY champions in Uplyme are exploring ways of making the area more "Dementia Friendly".

Uplyme's Help at Hand group are calling residents of West Dorset to attend their dementia awareness workshop, a free evening open to all ages of carers, sufferers and those who want to be better aware of the struggle people dealing with dementia go through.

The even, which will be held at Uplyme Village Hall on Wednesday, October 7th from 7pm to 10pm, is part of the Alzheimer's' Society Dementia Friends programme, an initiative that was launched in 2013 which helps members of the public understand what it's like to live with dementia.

The workshop is being spearheaded by Marilyn Kent and David and Anne Hardman, who are all members of Uplyme's Help at Hand scheme, which provides support to the people of Uplyme. They are urging local residents to attend the meeting and show care for those affected by dementia.

Learning to communicate well with someone who is living with dementia is one way to re-establish relationships, so that their isolation is less devastating.

Mrs Hardman, is one of the founding members of Uplyme's Help at Hand initiative, which was set up almost a year ago. She said she started the scheme to reach those in Uplyme who feel isolated and to support people in their time of need.

"Our aims are to identify those who are in need of help. We want to be a conduit through which residents can be put in touch with experts who can help resolve their problems but also provide some immediate help, reassurance, comfort and friendship."

The community group believes that achieving a more dementia friendly area would not only encourage more tourists to Uplyme and Lyme Regis, but also make them feel comfortable in situations, which at times, they may look to avoid.

The hope of the group is to have businesses in Uplyme, Lyme Regis and the surrounding areas have a "Dementia Friendly" sticker in their window, to show that they are capable of helping those in need.

Legion hosts weekend of special events to commemorate VJ Day

TO commemorate the 70th anniversary of the formal surrender of Japan and cessation of hostilities in the First World War, the Royal British Legion in Lyme Regis is hosting two special events over the weekend of September 5th and 6th.

Although Victory in Japan (VJ) Day has already passed, the Legion felt it more appropriate to hold events on this weekend, commemorating when the guns eventually fell silent.

On Saturday, September 5th at 7.30pm, the popular Three Counties Swing Band will entertain at a VJ Dance at the Woodmead Halls. Tickets are £5 at the door or in advance from the Tourist Information Centre.

"Come and join us and experience the 1940s music," said Legion chairman David Manners.

"It's is certainly going to be a good evening with such a prestigious swing band."

On Sunday, September 6th there will be a civic parade starting at Gun Cliff Walk and concluding at the Jubilee Pavilion on Marine Parade with a short service of commemoration and thanksgiving led by the Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Owen Lovell, and the Reverend Jane Skinner.

Lyme Regis Town Band will accompany the service and afterwards entertain visitors and residents with more music in one of their regular Sunday afternoon concerts.

The parade musters at 1.30pm for the service at 2pm.

Mr Manners added: "Every organisation in the town is welcome to parade with us and we urge as many as possible to attend the service. Never again in our life time, will we be able to mark such an historic event.

"Albeit VJ Day itself has passed, our committee felt it more appropriate to remember that time when the guns of WWII fell silent forever and our service personnel made their long journey home leaving thousands of their comrades in the many war graves all over the world.

"We will and must remember them."

The King comes to Lyme

■ STUCK ON YOU: Elvis impersonator Barry Paull congratulates event organisers Bob and Cynch McHardy on their 50th wedding anniversary

AN Elvis tribute night raised £1,795 for two local charities.

The Lyme Regis branch of Cancer Research UK and the Lyme Regis/St George's Twinning Association are set to benefit from almost £900 each following the event, which was held at the Woodmead Halls on Saturday. Funds for the twinning association will go towards erecting a statue of Admiral Sir George Somers, former Mayor of Lyme Regis and local MP who went on to colonise Bermuda, in Langmoor Gardens.

The event was organised by Bob McHardy, chairman of the twinning association, and his wife Cynch, who were also celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary that weekend (see page 4).

Entertainment was provided by acclaimed Elvis impersonator, Barry Paull, from Somerset, and around 130 guests also enjoyed a ploughman's supper, raffle and auction of orchids.

Mr McHardy said: "I would like to thank everyone for their most generous gifts for the raffle and to all helpers for the work in producing the supper along with the clearing up afterwards.

"The hall staff are to be congratulated on the pristine conditions and the helpful way that they fulfilled our requirements in the kitchen and hall. Barry Paull as Elvis made the night complete."

Work begins on revamped Jurassic theme play park

CHILDREN in Lyme Regis will soon be able to play on their Jurassic-themed park as renovation work gets underway this week.

The long-awaited revamp of the Anning Road play park started on Monday when workmen began tearing down the old equipment.

The bright and colourful new facility, owned by Lyme Regis Town Council, is expected to be finished within two months, with plans for a big opening event in late-September.

The town council is funding the majority of the £110,000 project, with a £5,400 contribution from the Lyme Regis Play Park Fundraising Association, £1,200 from Magna Housing Association, £600 from Palmers Brewery, and £400 from the Town Mill Cheesemonger.

The design, by Eibe Play, incorporates dinosaur and nautical-themed equipment, with inclusive facilities for children of all ages and physical abilities.

The park includes a dinosaur-theme "fallen fossil" as the centre-piece, a zip wire, a wooden ship, a pterodactyl nest, an inclusive roundabout, slides and swings, see-saw, a lookout mound, a nest swing, and pavilion-style shaded seating.

The Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Owen Lovell, said: "I'm thrilled that Lyme Regis Town Council has been able to make this happen for the town, with support from the community and local businesses.

"We appreciate there will be some disruption during construction, but it will be worth it when he have a fantastic new play park, providing a safe and stimulating environment for young children for years to come.

"We hope it'll become a landmark facility in the local area and people will feel it's worth coming to Lyme Regis to use the park, as well as providing another valuable facility for visitors, who are essential to our local economy.

"Look out for details of the opening event, when we hope to see as much of the local community as possible."

The town council has worked with the community on this project, holding a public consultation event at the Jubilee Pavilion in April, when residents chose their favourite scheme from seven shortlisted designs.

■ WORK BEGINS: Council operations manager Elliott Herbert, mayor Owen Lovell and councillors Cheryl Reynolds and Michaela Ellis

The council approved the final design and an extra £10,000 funding in April.

Councillor Cheryl Reynolds, who is also chairman of the Lyme Regis Play Park Fundraising Association, said: "I'm delighted that work has started on this long-awaited project for children in our town.

"The community has really got behind our fundraising efforts, demonstrating how important this play park is to families in Lyme Regis. I'd like to thank all those who have contributed to the project and dedicated time and effort to the many activities we have put on.

"I'm looking forward to the park opening and seeing children enjoying all the wonderful new facilities."

Lyme athlete sees success at London event

IT was a super Saturday for young triathlete Florence Swan, from Lyme Regis, who finished fifth amongst a very competitive field in the girls youth elite category at the London Triathlon on August 8th.

Only recently, 16-year-old Florence, a member of the Axminster-based CycleLife Junior Triathlon team, won the South West Triathlon championships and managed then to secure a place in the elite category in London.

She said: "It was really exciting competing at such a massive event with some top athletes. I really didn't know what to expect so I was very pleased and a little surprised to finish in the top five."

The London Triathlon is billed as the world's largest triathlon attracting over 13,000 competitors of all abilities and age groups with distances to suit. The event also formed part of the youth and junior National Super Series for elite athletes. This six race series is designed to bring together the best young triathletes from across the UK so they can race head to head at the best and most exciting venues in the country.

Florence's coach Malcolm Greenslade, also from Lyme Regis, said: "Since taking up triathlon only last September, she has worked very hard and made huge progress and is always keen to step up to the next level."

The national series for 2015 is almost over so Florence is already looking towards 2016 when she moves up to the junior category and hopes to compete in the full national series.

Rain fails to dampen spirits at Shire House

POOR weather failed to dampen the mood at Shire House Residential Home in Lyme Regis last Friday. Although the scheduled garden party had to be moved indoors due to the rain, the home was packed with residents and visitors who enjoyed a sing-along (pictured right), fundraising stalls, an afternoon tea and refreshments. The events raised funds for cancer charity Chordoma UK, while Shire House resident Cyril Bugler also collected for the British Red Cross (pictured left).

'National Gallery of Lyme' open

AS part of the Bridport and West Dorset Open Studios event, running from August 22nd to 31st, the "National Gallery of Lyme Regis" at Little Place, Silver Street, will be displaying work of three local artists.

The gallery will be open daily from 2pm to 6pm showing work by Hugh Dunford Wood, Anne Quick and Guy Martin.

Set in a beautiful seaward facing Georgian house in the heart of Lyme Regis, this vibrant show of Hugh's colourful Collinos, handprinted cushions and wallpaper, together with Guy's energetic drawings and contemplative semi-abstract sculptures, ambiguous with symbol and metaphor, are wonderfully offset by Anne's rich and loosely painted portraits, sea and landscapes.

Planning inspector advocates cross-border communication on future developments

A GOVERNMENT planning inspector has highlighted the importance of cross-border communication when considering future development in the Lyme Regis and Uplyme area.

Independent inspector Paul Crysell has found the new joint Local Plan for West Dorset, Weymouth and Portland sound, meaning it can now go forward to be adopted.

Mr Crysell sent his report to the two councils, concluding that the plan was an appropriate basis for the planning of the district and borough, subject to a number of modifications. Most of these modifications were published for public consultation earlier this year.

The local plan sets out a long term planning strategy for the area up until 2031, and includes detailed policies and site proposals for housing, employment, leisure and infrastructure. It was submitted to the government for examination in June 2013, following several stages of public consultation. Public hearings took place in November and December 2014.

In his report, Mr Crysell emphasised the importance of cross-border communication between Lyme Regis and Uplyme when discussion any potential development in the future.

His report read: "Discussions have taken place between the authorities on the western edge of West Dorset where Lyme Regis merges with Uplyme, the neighbouring settlement in East Devon. The proximity of these settlements means development options might exist which could provide alternative planning outcomes for the area.

By FRANCESCA EVANS
francesca@pemedia.co.uk

"The two councils have jointly assessed development options while recognising that these are limited because of the location of both settlements in Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty and land stability and access issues.

"The opportunity to explore matters further has not been pursued, in part because published advice from the Planning Advisory Service (June 2014) says HMA boundaries should not cut across local authority areas because of the difficulties this presents.

Common approach

"Even so, I do not consider the close relationship between two parts of what can be viewed as the same settlement should be dismissed. It does not appear there was any reluctance on the part of West Dorset to participate in cross-boundary working and the councils have since agreed that a common approach should be adopted in pursuing future options for growth.

"West Dorset Council has allocated land on the periphery of Lyme Regis for housing purposes which will contribute to the market and affordable housing needs of the local area. It is unclear whether additional sites in Uplyme could be made available and it is difficult to conclude that cross-boundary issues are so significant to warrant delaying adoption of the Local Plan.

"The duty to co-operate is not one which forces parties to agree, but discussions during the examination led to a position statement supporting future joint working between the councils... I appreciate that this does not mean a common solution to meeting development needs will be reached but it provides formal recognition that administrative boundaries should not be an obstacle to more positive planning outcomes."

Other references to Lyme Regis in the inspector's report included the Woodberry Down site off Colway Lane, which is currently under development.

Te report read: "Reservations were expressed over the feasibility of developing land at Woodberry Down because of geological problems and soil conditions. The site was allocated in the previous Local Plan and has been enlarged to accommodate some 90 dwellings as well as employment uses.

"Visually it is very well contained by the surrounding landform so its impact on the Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty is limited and is not, in my view, a reason for opposing development.

"As I saw work is underway, the developer having piled the site to overcome stability issues. Despite the awkward nature of the site the housebuilder is confident of meeting the councils' objectives although it illustrates the difficulties associated with finding suitable development land."

The inspector has not made any significant changes to the development proposals in the plan, which include sites at Weymouth, Littlemoor, Chickerell, Bridport and Crossways.

There are recommendations that the councils review the plan by 2021, looking again at the development potential of Dorchester and Sherborne in particular and the inspector has removed the reference to a Trunk Road Service Area as part of the park-and-ride site proposed south of Dorchester.

West Dorset District Council Executive Portfolio Holder for Planning, Councillor Ian Gardner, said: "The inspector's report is a major step forward towards adoption of our new local plan. Its adoption should provide everyone with a better understanding of where the new development, providing the homes and jobs our area need, is planned."

Weymouth & Portland Borough Council Environment and Sustainability Briefholder, Councillor Ian Roebuck, added: "The inspector's report represents the final stage of a long process, involving councillors, staff, members of the public and other organisations.

"I would like to thank all those in our communities who have participated in this process by writing in their comments, coming to consultation events and appearing at the public examination hearings - all of this input has helped to shape the final plan."

The plan will now go to the borough council's Management Committee and district council's Executive Committee in September and October, and full council meetings on October 15th and 22nd, recommended for adoption.

The inspector's full report is available to read online at www.dorsetforyou.com/InspectorsReport/West/Weymouth and can be viewed at the both South Walks House in Dorchester and North Quay offices in Weymouth.

Police team up for cross-border operation against rural crime

DORSET Police's Special Constables have delivered a two day cross-border operation to help prevent and detect rural crime.

A team of 40 Special Constables from Dorset Police, Wiltshire Police and Hampshire Constabulary patrolled 1,400 square miles of rural area over the weekend of August 8th and 9th.

Lyme Regis was among the villages and towns targeted, as well as Broadwinsdor, Bridport, Wareham, Upton, Sherborne, Mere, Shaftesbury, Blandford, Wimborne, Verwood, Fordingbridge, Ringwood, Brockenhurst and Christchurch.

The operation involved proactive patrols in communities that have been targeted by criminals committing crime, such as burglaries and rural thefts.

Officers from all three forces met and worked together, carrying out extensive patrols of rural areas across the three county borders.

Numerous stop checks of vehicles which were travelling within the area were also carried out. Particular attention was paid to those who are known to carry out rural crime.

Special Inspector Ben Muspratt of Dorset Police said: "This is the fifth operation of its kind, which has been led by the Special Constabulary. We are continuing to develop this operation to target those who commit rural crime across all counties involved.

"It is very clear that this high visibility operation has had a positive impact on the community. It has demonstrated to residents that all three forces are committed to tackling rural crime.

■ PREVENTING RURAL CRIME: Officers working on the two-day operation in the Dorchester and Bridport area

"We want to send out a very clear message to criminals that we will not tolerate such activity."

A vehicle in the Bridport area was seized during the operation, as the driver had no insurance and Automatic Number Plate Recognition was utilised to identify potential offenders.

Special Sergeant James Natoli of Dorset Police said: "The support of our regular colleagues and neighbouring constabularies has allowed us to build on each operation and effectively deploy officers for the best outcome possible.

"Special Constables are unpaid volunteer police officers who have the same powers of arrest and wear the same uniform as regular officers performing a wide range of duties.

"The level of training, development and competency of a Special Constable is considered very high within the Dorset, Wiltshire and Hampshire forces.

"Dorset Police is keen to encourage anyone interested to 'be part of something more' and look at our website www.dorset.police.uk for more information on this unique voluntary role."

Members of the public can help protect themselves and their rural property from crime by following some simple crime prevention steps. Advice and information is available on the Crime Prevention Portal on the Dorset Police website - http://CrimePrevention.dorset.police.uk

Fundraising events should take advantage of internet

I WOULD like to question the policy of the organisation of Lifeboat Week and Regatta & Carnival Week, where by there seems to be a rejection of taking advantage of the opportunities offered by the internet and social media.

Considering the great list of events it is a shame that people remain unaware of what is going on unless they are already in Lyme Regis and in a position to buy one of the souvenir programmes.

I see the point that revenue will be gained by people buying the programmes, but unless people are attracted here in the first place, the lack of "bums on seats" isn't going to help the sale of programmes or revenue from collections during the events.

In comparison, if one is to look at what is on, for example, during Dartmouth Regatta on the internet, there is comprehensive coverage, which in the event of a poor weather day might just temp people out.

A lot of good work is done in fundraising for the lifeboat and carnival-related causes, so let's embrace technology a bit more and try casting our "net" a little wider next time round.

Art demonstration at Uplyme Church

AN art demonstration by Devon painter Gregory Wellman will be held at Uplyme Church on Friday, August 28th.

The demonstration will be held as part of a charity art exhibition and sale over the whole weekend named "Streams of Living Water", in aid of the church's Zambia water project which raises money for Tearfund.

The exhibition will be open from 10.30am to 4.30pm both days and is free to enter, but the demonstration is a ticket only event costing £6 each, and will be held at 2pm on the Saturday.

Gregory Wellman (pictured) is a professional portrait painter currently based in Devon. He was born in Bridport, attended the Woodroffe School and his parents and grandparents were married in Uplyme Church.

His representational work in oils, acrylic and pastel has travelled across the world. Clients and collectors can be found in London, Chicago, Beverly Hills, Europe and Australia. They include film directors, actors and private collectors.

In his portrait work, Gregory not only achieves a remarkable likeness, but a real sense of the person's inner world, something of their true essence.

He has been short listed for the Daily Mail's Not The Turner Prize, commissioned by The Royal Marine's Rifle Association and has had work exhibited at The Mall Galleries in London.

To book a place call Sue Wells 07912 272 102.

View from the churches

"THE Retreating Roar" - the metaphor of poet Matthew Arnold used to refer to the European-wide decline of the Christian Faith.

BBC Radio 3 have employed this for a series of essays reflecting on the continuing decline of Christianity within our culture. In episode one, "The Loss of God", journalist Madeleine Bunting very thoughtfully ponders what it's like for a faith to die - what replaces it in people's lives?

As I listen I ask myself, what is actually dying? I wonder if Christianity is perceived, essentially, as a world of rituals and traditions that no longer seem relevant. A case of nobody bothering to unwrap the gift because the packaging no longer make sense of the contents. But, is authentic faith in Jesus actually dying out?

I often lament that many I speak to don't actually know what Jesus taught. Their opinions relate more to a cultural caricature that seems to describe more of an institutional religious "wrapping" than what Jesus taught. It's the generational challenge: identifying the difference between the life Jesus called his followers to practice and teach and the Christianity that culture has historically shaped and endorsed.

In reality, the problem lies in the fact that authentic Jesus following is often to be found quietly practiced unseen under the "wrapping".

History testifies to the fact that cultures (and their ideologies) have come and gone, empires risen and fallen, but faith in Jesus continues. So what is actually dying? Maybe it's just the style of formal practice that once beat with vibrant life but is now in it's death throws for most people.

I suppose the only way to know for sure is to go along and find out for oneself! Why not check out the events in the local church communities this week and see where Jesus is still transforming lives.

Old hurts still hurting?

"STIFF upper lip" has a lot to answer for. Trying to ignore feelings can just make it worse. Like trying to hold lids on volcanoes. Sooner or later they'll erupt. Sooner or later unresolved emotional issues can burst through and wreak havoc.

The trouble is that our conscious, thinking mind really is only the tip of the iceberg. Most of the power is below the surface, on a subconscious level. So when old feelings erupt we can be helpless to do anything about it, consciously.

Susan Gale, of the Beltain Centre in Dorchester, can use hypnotherapy and her years of experience to help you. She has a very down to earth approach and always tailors the therapy to the person. You just need to want to change and then Susan can help you to help yourself.

Hypnotherapy helps in so many ways. To clear tensions and anxieties. To restore confidence and well-being. To break free of unwanted bad habits. And much much more.

Susan has been working as a hypnotherapist since 1989 and has helped many people. Take a look at her website www.beltain.co.uk or phone 01305 267069 to see how she could help you.

Last summer the Dorchester BID (in association with the Town Council) ran the highly successful 'Sporting Country Flags' competition. The feedback from the shops, mums and dads, grandparents and of course, the kids was so positive that we had to have another one this summer!

This year's competition.....Are you a super sleuth? We are looking to the children of the Dorchester area (and our visitors of course) to prove how good their detection and observational skills are when it comes to finding secret locations of shops and businesses around town. There are two age groups this year 10yrs and under, 11yrs and over (max 16yrs). Both age groups will have 1st second and third prizes of £70, £40 & £20 in the form of vouchers to spend, where possible in a shop in Dorchester of their choice (some shops last year added extra to the prize too!)

The children entering will be on a detective mission: All participating shops will have no visible clue from the outside that they are in the competition, but they will have a close up photograph taken of either an iconic part of their building, part of a logo or some other good visual clue as to where the photo was taken. Some shots might be close-up photography; others might be a clue by the kind of products sold. Some will be easy some much harder, so it should test the detective in all those entering!

Once a shop/business has been identified by the photo, the young super sleuth needs to go into the business and (hopefully) polity ask for a sticker for their collection. If you are a parent please go in with them if you can. This sticker will be a miniature version of the photo to add to their collection. The winners in each age group will be drawn out of a hat but if no one has a full set then it will be the ones with the most correct answers.

Our spies are everywhere! Like last year, budding super sleuths will be able to tweet/facebook their own clues to friends if they want or ask our secret agent, @Dorchdude on twitter or via our facebook page (Dorchester Thomas Hardy Country) for cryptic clues to help find some of the harder ones. 'Like/Follow' these accounts to get the latest on the competition, clues and other useful information.

How to enter: It's simple, just go to either the TIC (Tourist Information Centre) in Antelope walk or the Town Council office in North Square to get your free Mission Report (available from Sat 18th July) and then you will be ready to start solving the photo clues and locations.

The full set of Photo clues to be hunted down will be available as a download from our website (www.dorchesterdorset.com) from the 18th July and for those with no computer access they will be available from the TIC and the Town Council office in North Square.

Project director Phil Gordon comments "This was huge fun last year and so many shops reported how they enjoyed talking to the super sleuths who became more confident as time went on! I can't wait to get started again- great fun on a rainy day when its sometimes hard to find things to do with the kids, but in the better weather too it should encourage more families to explore parts of the town that they are less familiar with and maybe discover one or two hidden gems of shops tucked away down side streets".

Editors Note for more info call Phil Gordon on 07799 494886

Police commissioner's office denies claims it is taking funds away from frontline services

DORSET'S Police and Crime Commissioner has criticised claims that spending is being taken away from frontline services because of the introduction of commissioners.

The Dorset office has also denied that it is the least efficient in the country.

The Taxpayers' Alliance says that more than a thousand extra police officers could be paid for with the £52million spent nationally by the offices of Police and Crime Commissioners across England and Wales.

It said that Dorset was one of the worst – spending £931,000 more in 2013-14 than the police authority was replaced.

But the office of the Police and Crime Commissioner for Dorset said the figures were crude and were comparing "apples and pears".

Jonathan Isaby, chief executive of the Taxpayers' Alliance, said: "Taxpayers were told that the new system of Police and Crime Commissioners wouldn't cost them any more than the authorities they replaced, but this research suggests that's not the case in many parts of the country."

The alliance claims that the Dorset office costs of the PCC amounted to £1.58million in 2013/14, compared to £651,000 in 2011/12 for the old police authority, a difference of £931,000, which it claims is the highest in the country when broken down as a percentage per 1,000 population.

A statement from the office of Dorset's PCC Martyn Underhill said: "Specifically for Dorset, the offices of the PCC funds a number of additional services, such as victim services and the Restorative Justice programme, which in some other areas will appear in a force's budget rather than the offices of the PCC.

"The actual cost of running the offices of the PCC for comparison is £870,000, which is no greater than the previous 'more invisible' police authority."

There was also criticism of the four people the Dorset Police and Crime Commissioner is said to employ in "promotional activities". In addition 11 other staff are on the payroll.

In the statement from the Dorset office of the Police and Crime Commissioner it said that the four were employed in "communications and engagement roles, delivering a lot more than the 'promotional' activity suggested by the TPA".

Ride+Stride for Dorset's historic churches

VOLUNTEERS of all ages are gearing up to pedal for their parish at this year's Ride+Stride event.

The annual, national fundraising day, organised locally by Dorset Historic Churches Trust (DHCT), invites participants to cycle, walk and even ride a horse to Dorset's churches and chapels on Saturday, September 12th between 10am and 6pm.

There is no official route and participants seek sponsorship to visit as many churches as they feel able or indeed for taking part. Riders and striders will be raising money for the maintenance and repair of Dorset's historic churches, with all sponsorship split between DHCT and their own nominated church.

Dorset is filled with spectacular church heritage and the event presents an opportunity to explore the history and architecture of churches, some of which are not regularly open. Over 300 churches across towns and villages will be open throughout the day, providing refreshments and a well-earned rest for hard working riders and striders, alongside the opportunity to admire the history and heritage of these churches.

Chairman of Dorset Historic Churches Trust, Simon Pomeroy, said: "The annual Ride+Stride event is a great way for all the family to explore some of our wonderful local churches either on foot, by bicycle, wheelchair or on horseback whilst raising funds to support their local church and the important work that DHCT does across the county.

"We are very much looking forward to this year's event and hope to see many people out and about enjoying the Dorset countryside on Saturday, September 12th."

Experienced riders will plot their route to keep well off the busy main roads and all participants will be able use the Ride+Stride page of the trust's website at www.dhct.org.uk to check the map locations of every church – even downloading them to their smart phone or tablet.

Last year's event raised a record £81,000 in sponsorship, with 197 parish communities taking part in the fundraising event. The trust is hoping that riders and striders from even more communities will take part this year, gathering pledges on the traditional paper forms or through JustGiving on the trust's website.

Fifty per cent of the funds raised are returned to the parish chosen by the rider and there is keen competition to gain the most sponsorship as the trustees award the Morshead Trophy to the parish which they consider to be the most deserving. In 2014, St Osmund in Evershot topped the list with £2,800 for their cyclist Richard Campbell.

Since 1991, the trust has raised over £950,000 from the Ride+Stride event, formerly known as the Great Cycle Ride. The money raised is the main source of income for the trust, which helped 27 churches in need of repair and renovation in 2014, by awarding grant-aid totalling £97,000.

For more information about the Ride and Stride, contact Anna Butler on 01305 260004, email annabutler@hotmail.co.uk or visit the DHCT website at www.dhct.org.uk

The Best of West Dorset's Livestock on Show

FOR the last few months farmers in the area have been preparing their livestock – cattle, pigs, sheep, goats – ready to compete at the Melplash Show. The planning and preparation that has to be undertaken to ensure that their animals look the best for show day cannot be under estimated- For example training a beef animal to be lead with a halter around a ring in front of thousands of people will have taken months of practise.

"It is going to be an exciting year for the livestock section this year.. all classes are up and it is great to be welcoming a number of new competitors." said Show Secretary, Lucy Hart "

Visitors to the show will be able to walk amongst the livestock and see breeds of farm animals from all around the world including a number of rare breeds. Their owners will only to be too happy to answer questions and very happy to be photographed!

Lyme Folk Weekend - August 21st-23rd

GET FOLK-READY FOR THE WEEKEND

THIS COMING weekend sees the return of Lyme Folk - three days of full-on festivities - with the cream of folk lining up to play at venues, large and small, all around the town, including a continuous stream of free concerts on the seafront.

With nearly 50 acts, on three different stages, as well as pop-up gigs in cafes and pubs, the weekend promises to be even bigger and better than in previous years say the organisers.

Over three nights, one venue, Marine Theatre, will host headline concerts from the alt-folk combo Turin Brakes, the multi-award-wining husband and wife duo, Kathryn Roberts and Sean Lakeman and Lyme Folk Weekend's very own patron, Jim Causley & Friends respectively.

Nine Barrow

Each evening will also feature a raft of up-and-coming acts at The Pilot Boat. Here, there's an opportunity to get a glimpse of stars in the making. For example, last year featured the all-girl Devon trio, Wildwood Kin, who this year were nominated by Radio 2 Folk Awards as best new folk act.

Saturday is the busiest day of the weekend kicking off with a grand Morris Parade down the high street in the morning, followed by a massed dance off on the seafront and a spectacular finale in the early evening? With Morris dancers converging on Lyme from all around the country, dancing in the streets is guaranteed over the three days.

This year, the Mariners Hotel will host first Folk BBQ on Saturday afternoon in the hotel's gardens overlooking Lyme Bay, featuring The Uke Man League, a four-piece ukulele, band with a cheeky set-list to pave the way for a full evening's entertainment throughout town.

Saturday night also sees the return of the popular Ceilidh which will be held in the Langmoor Marquee on the seafront, which incidentally also acts as the festival beer tent and the venue for workshops and sing-alongs throughout the weekend.

And for the first time, this year's festival will be supporting the blood cancer charity, Anthony Nolan, with two events to commemorate the 50th anniversary of Frank Purslow's collection of English folk songs, Marrow Bones. These will be held in the Langmoor Marquee on Saturday and Sunday afternoon.

Julie Sheppard, the festival's publicist said "This promises to be our best festival so far...it's insanely ambitious with music planned all over town for the entire weekend. But from my experience it's often the unplanned performances which create that special Lyme vibe. So, my advice is – grab a free copy of the programme, plan your time, buy your tickets – then just go with the flow!"

Copies of the free programme will be available throughout the town over the weekend and from Lyme Regis Tourist Information Centre.

■ Tickets for concerts at Marine Theatre from www.lymefolk.com or 01297 442138 (Lyme Regis Tourist Information Centre, Church Street, Lyme Regis).

Admission to Lyme Folk BBQ at Mariners Hotel, concerts at The Pilot Boat and Saturday's Ceilidh - all £5 on the door.

All other events are free.

Paul Young-led Los Pacaminos come to the Marine Theatre

Los Pacaminos

LED BY Paul Young, Los Pacaminos are an Americana group from London who play music from the heart.
Originally formed as an opportunity to play their shared passion of the Border, Tex-Mex and Americana music that the members of the band love, they started as a practice band playing when other musical commitments allowed – top musicians just playing for fun. Word got around as word does and soon the band started playing gigs. Paul is not the only luminary in this seven piece band. Some of the best musicians in the business have teamed up to present an incendiary mix of classics and original material.
Paul says "Los Pacaminos started out just for fun, playing simply for the pleasure of it, and it just took off from there. What's really nice is that everyone else in the band can sing too, and they do, all in their own different styles. It's real bar room stuff, foot stompers, not too many slow songs – a real party atmosphere."
Los Pacaminos play at the Marine Theatre on Friday, August 28th, with doors opening at 7.15pm. Tickets are £14.50 (full) or £13.50 (concessions) available by calling the box office on 01297 442138 or from the website at www.marinetheatre.com

LYME REGIS GOLF CLUB is situated on Timber Hill in Lyme Regis, on the Cliff top. The course itself treats both members and visitors to some of the most stunning panoramic views across Lyme Bay.

Contrary to popular belief, anybody can dine at the Golf Club. The common misconception is that you have to be a member, or a visiting golfer to enter the clubhouse, but this is not the case. The restaurant is open to the general public all year round.

Everything on the menu is freshly prepared in the clubhouse kitchen, and sourced locally where possible.

The Golf Club offer a range of daily specials, which includes fresh local seafood from Lyme Bay, and meat from local farmers. The kitchen is also happy to cater for any special dietary requirements.

The club is now famous for its superb Sunday Carvery, open to all visitors from 12 noon – 3pm currently on a twice per month basis. Diners have a choice of three meats and a large selection of vegetables and potatoes that you can help yourself to. As the Carvery is so popular it is bookings only, and if you haven't tried it yet, you really should! The next two Carvery's will be on Sunday, August 23rd and 6th September.

Once a month also sees a different theme night, with the Best of British night next on the agenda for Friday 11th September. The menu can be found on the opposite page, and at just £20 per head it's a great excuse for a night out to taste the eat the best of British cuisine at a very reasonable price! There are still a few spaces available so book now to avoid disappointment. October will see a Halloween theme night on Friday, October 30th so keep an eye out for that menu next month.

As summer starts to come towards an end and autumn gets ever closer it is also time to start thinking about (say it quietly...) Christmas!

After its great success last year, the Golf Club will be holding two Christmas party nights on Friday 11th and Saturday, December 12th. With a special three-course menu followed by a disco to celebrate the festive season, there's no better place for your Christmas Party. Whether it's your office Christmas party or just a celebration amongst friends, everyone is welcome at Lyme Regis Golf Club. The Christmas menu can also be found on the opposite page, again please book early due to the huge popularity of these nights! Available end of November to December 24th

If these dates don't suit there are still some other dates available if you would like a private party, where resident DJ Jurassic Dave will also be available for hire should you wish to dance the night away!

The dining room and lounge areas all overlook the golf course and there is easy access to the south-facing patio area throughout the year, which gives members and visitors alike the opportunity to enjoy their choice of beverages in the open air during the summer months.

Kinetics – the moving theatre piece causing a stir

A thought-provoking new play debuts in Dorchester this autumn, supported by Dorchester Arts and Parkinson's UK

DORCHESTER ARTS is delighted to work with Sue Wylie of Wildcard Productions in co-commissioning her exciting new play, Kinetics. Based on a true story, this much-anticipated new theatre piece explores an unlikely friendship between a teenage boy who is into free running (Parkour) and a middle-aged woman who has early onset Parkinson's.

They bond through a common ground – the desire to move.

Sue Wylie has performed in many national as well local theatre productions, including her own production of the sell out show Daisy Pulls It Off at Dorchester Arts performed in April of this year.

This inspiring project marks a new phase in her theatrical career by not only producing and performing, but script writing as well. Sue explains further, 'Four years ago shortly after my 50th birthday, I was diagnosed with Parkinson's. After the initial shock I knew I wanted to write about it. As a professional actress I know how communication through a script is a powerful tool.'

'I was teaching drama at a college at the time and discovered a 16-year-old student in my tutor group was free running on the school roof! The exhilaration was his release and I was intrigued by the risks he took in his addiction to this extreme sport, known as Parkour. How interesting to contrast that with a middle-aged woman whose world of movement is slowly becoming eroded. What if their paths should accidentally cross and an unlikely friendship form? I knew there was a play script in there and thus 'Kinetics' was born.'

The first workshop performance of the play was held in June and was incredibly well received. The unique approach to a potentially dark and difficult subject matter has already drawn the attention of many people and organisations including the local Parkinson's UK support group.

So much so, Barrie Taylor-Hain, Chairman of the Weymouth & Dorchester branch has pledged £1,500 in support of the play and its future development as a touring production. Barrie adds, 'After I listened to the read through of the play, I found it to be very true of the way that people react when they are first diagnosed. It goes into great detail of the feelings of a person with Parkinson's, and shows awareness of the way in which other people can help them to overcome the initial shock and denial and help them lead a full and happy life.'

Mark Tattersall, Artistic Director at Dorchester Arts is excited to help develop new theatre that challenges and inspires, 'We are committed to supporting and promoting local drama in whichever way we can. When Sue Wylie asked for help with developing and producing her new play we didn't hesitate for a moment – it's a superb piece of writing, tackling an important and fascinating subject with humour, elegance and emotion, and we believe it has a big future.'

Sue is already in talks with other venues across Dorset to perform the piece this autumn, and aims to bring it to Edinburgh Fringe Festival in 2016.

In celebration of this exciting new play Dorchester Arts has also joined forces with Jackson Turner at Train Hard who will offer free Parkour workshops for anyone aged 6+ at the new Dorchester Parkour Park on the day of the performance. More details and booking for both events can be found the Dorchester Arts website.

Kinetics will be performed on Saturday, September 5th at Dorchester Corn Exchange, High East Street DT1 1HF Box Office: 01305 266 926 www.dorchesterarts.org.uk

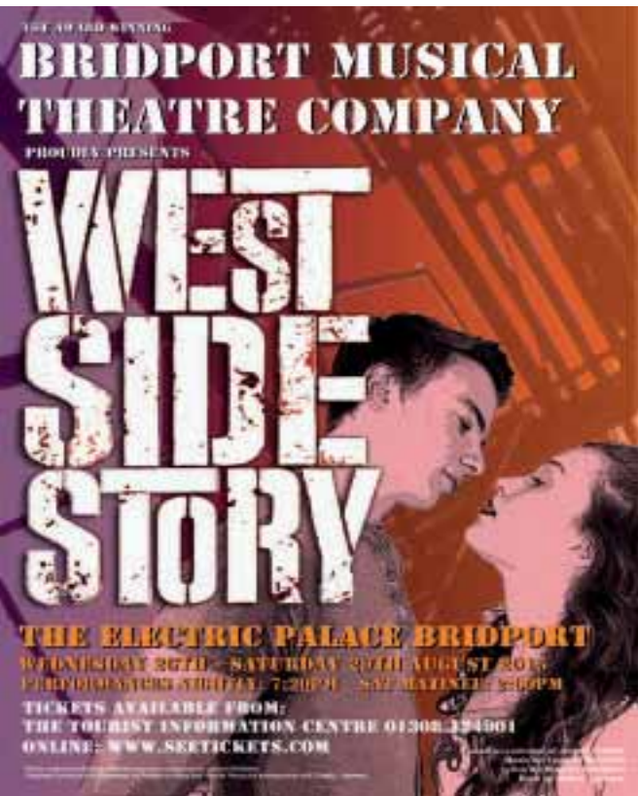
THROUGHOUT his life Sean Hughes has been battling to stay on the right side of sanity. This is because in middle age he has realised that the two sides of his brain are in constant conflict. There is common sense against mumbo jumbo and mumbo jumbo seems to have the upper hand.

His new show, 'Mumbo Jumbo', consists of stories including being serenaded at the break of dawn by Robert Smith, trekking mountain gorillas in Rwanda and coming to the conclusion that he will never have a proper conversation with his dear mum. There will be a few poems and a 3-minute musical about ageing too.

Sean Hughes brings 'Mumbo Jumbo' to Bridport Arts Centre on Thursday, September 12th at 8pm. Tickets are £13 or £11 from www.bridport-arts.com or by calling 01308 424204



Award-winning Bridport Musical Theatre Company presents

West Side Story

FOLLOWING last year's sell out production of Grease this versatile and talented young company bring you their most challenging production to date with the classic musical "West Side Story". With ground breaking choreography by the legendary Jerome Robbins, book by Arthur Laurents, an unforgettable score by Leonard Bernstein and lyrics by Stephen Sondheim, this musical changed the face of musical theatre forever.

The world's greatest love story takes to the streets in this landmark Broadway musical that is one of the theatre's finest accomplishments. Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet is transported to 50s New York city, as two young idealistic lovers find themselves caught between warring street gangs' the American Jets and the Puerto Rican Sharks. The struggle to survive in a world of hate, violence and prejudice is one of the most innovative, heart -wrenching and relevant musical dramas of our time. Famous songs include tonight, Maria, I Feel Pretty, Somewhere and America.

Director Dave Swaffield said to accommodate the complexity of the set and large cast this year's production will be staged at the Electric Palace.

West Side Story will run from Wednesday, August 26th – Saturday, August 29th with evening performances at 7.30 p.m. including a Saturday matinee at 2.00 p.m. Tickets are available from Bridport Tourist Information Centre 01308 424901 or online: www.seetickets.com

Paul Lamb & the King Snakes Set to launch monthly Blues Night at The Electric Palace

PAUL LAMB & the King Snakes bring mind blowing energy and electrifying stage presence to every show.

And they're appearing at Bridport Electric Palace on Friday, September 4th to launch the venue's monthly Blues Night, which will be held on the first Friday of the month.

Paul Lamb is the undisputed master of the harmonica, with Mark Knopfler of Dire Straits saying 'this is blues harp as good as it gets'.

Paul's spent the last thirty-something years whoopin' and hollerin' in clubs in his native North-East plus a later move to London, in concert and on festival stages, creating a personal synthesis of his harmonica heroes and his own unique and innate talent.

He's represented Britain in the World Harmonica Championships, working with his particular mentor, Sonny Terry, and with any number of other blues artists who've visited these shores.

Over the years Paul Lamb & the King Snakes have won countless awards, sold record breaking quantities of albums and been inducted into the British Blues Awards Hall of Fame alongside the likes of Peter Green & John Mayall.

There's a great deal of experience behind vocalist and rhythm guitarist Chad Strentz, too. He started out as a rockabilly hound, encouraged by the wilder excesses of Gene Vincent, Johnny Burnette and Mac Curtis, with some Elvis and Little Richard in there for extra relish.

Paul Lamb & The King Snakes

But if you want to talk experience, take a long listen to bass player and vocalist Rod Demick. He formed his first group, the Vibros, when he was eleven and later graduated to Wheels, the only R&B competition in Belfast for Van Morrison and Them.

The youngest member is Ryan 'Junior' Lamb. Having the legendary harmonica player, Mr Paul Lamb, as his father, you could say he was born to play the blues. However make no mistake – it's because of his outstanding guitar talent, rather than nepotism, that landed Junior the job of lead guitarist in the King Snakes in 2007.

Dino Coccia was the King Snakes drummer in 1991 & now back in the drum seat coming full circle. He is a talented musician who brings to the band a strong foundation that allows for the instrumental and vocal expression that the band attains.

Tickets cost just £10.50 (£10 + 50p booking fee) in advance from the Electric Palace Box Office or Bridport TIC or £12 on the door.

Tickets through Electric Palace Box Office (open Tues–Sat, 10am- 4pm) 01308 428354

Bridport TIC (open Mon-Sat 10am-3pm) on 01308 424901 or online through Seetickets.com

The Beaux Strategem

Electric Palace to show National Theatre Live's performance of The Beaux Strategem

NATIONAL Theatre Live's performance of The Beaux Strategem on Thursday, September 3rd.

The 'Beaux': Mr Aimwell and Mr Archer, two charming, dissolute young men who have blown their fortunes in giddy London. Shamed and debt-ridden, they flee to provincial Lichfield. Their 'Stratagem': to marry for money.

Lodged at the local inn, posing as master and servant, they encounter a teeming variety of human obstacles: a crooked landlord, a fearsome highwayman, a fervent French Count, a maid on the make, a drunken husband, a furious butler, a natural healer and a strange, turbulent priest.

But their greatest obstacle is love. When the Beaux meet their match in Dorinda and Mrs Sullen they are most at risk, for in love they might be truly discovered.

George Farquhar's final play is a fabulous carnal comedy.

National Theatre's live performance of Beaux' Stratagem will be shown at the Electric Palace on Thursday, September 3rd, with doors opening at 6pm and the showing at 7pm.

Tickets are £10.50 in advance or £12 on the door. Advance tickets from www.seetickets.com or by calling the box office on 01308 424901.

OUTSTANDING THREE BEDROOM HOME, IN BEAMINSTER - £450,000

JEREMY Smith, Senior Manager of Symonds & Sampson's award winning branch in Beaminster is delighted to have been chosen to market an outstanding and extended property just off Shorts Lane. Jeremy commented 'our vendor had a number of valuations both from agents in Bridport and Beaminster, but we were grateful she chose us not only for our superior service, but also because we are on the property website Zoopla where most of our London enquiries come from. The property which is an absolute tardis, needs to be seen to be truly appreciated.

Hall, large sitting room, good size dining room, fine kitchen/breakfast room, three bedrooms, one being en-suite and a family bathroom. On the first floor is a very good size master bedroom with en-suite shower room.

Externally a true feature of the property are the very large lawned gardens and the fine balcony which overlooks them and the surrounding fields. There is also a useful workshop, parking for two vehicles and a garage.

We advise early viewing of this property which is on the market for £450,000 for the freehold. Please contact us on 01308 863100 to arrange a viewing.

Just Add Fuel™… Just Got Better

JUST Add Fuel™is PEUGEOT's innovative and unique fixed-cost motoring package – and now it's available to teenage drivers.

Since launch in July 2010, over 27,000 UK drivers have taken advantage of Just Add Fuel™from PEUGEOT. Along with being hassle free, its low single monthly payment to cover all motoring costs and exceptional value for money have been the appealing factors.

But it has only been available to drivers aged 21 or older – until now. PEUGEOT has again rewritten the retail rule book and, thanks to the use of advanced telematics technology, younger drivers can benefit for the first time.

Just Add Fuel™is an innovation which has had a significant influence on UK car-buying patterns. It includes: a single monthly payment to cover all motoring costs, no need to budget for insurance, servicing, road fund licence*, and roadside assistance costs – they are all included, no need to search for cheaper insurance each year, fixed price motoring for three years means peace of mind, a completely transparent motoring package with no hidden costs & the opportunity to drive a new car every three years, so no MOT costs.

Insurance industry data reveals that, statistically, drivers aged 18-20 are at the highest risk of being involved an accident. Working closely with its policy provider, PEUGEOT is launching a comprehensive fixed cost motoring package which takes that into account.

Neil Moscrop, PEUGEOT Brand Director commented: "Just Add Fuel is recognised as the most significant innovation in vehicle retailing for a number of years. Now we can widen its appeal even further, allowing a broader spectrum of drivers to experience the thrill of owning a new PEUGEOT car."

Just Add Fuel™for those aged 18-20 is only available to PEUGEOT 108 buyers and is priced from just £248 rental per month. The secret is a discreet plug-in telematics device; sent to customers immediately after they take delivery of the popular city car, it attaches to the On-Board Diagnostic (OBD) port under the steering wheel. It's a simple installation which they can do themselves, though their PEUGEOT Dealer will be happy to help if required.

Via satellite tracking, it stores and sends data on the vehicle's speed, acceleration, deceleration and lateral G-forces. This is used to assess the customer's driving style and rate each journey made, on a scale from 1–100. Customers will have access to an online portal where they can review their driving activity.

This is also regularly monitored by the insurer and an aggregate score awarded. Feedback is provided to assist the customer in improving this if necessary. If the score falls below an agreed threshold, the driver will receive a warning. Four warnings a year will result in the insurance policy being cancelled. This may reduce the number of insurance products available to the customer, and/or increase the premiums they are quoted.

Terms and conditions apply, including a requirement for a full UK driving licence, permanent UK residency and no 'fault' insurance claims.

Just Add Fuel™with telematics is also available to PEUGEOT 108 buyers aged 21-75 who do not have two years' No Claims Discount, or have held a full UK driver's licence for less than two years.

Despite being part of the new car retailing landscape for five years, Just Add Fuel™remains unique to PEUGEOT.

*Road Fund Licence on a PEUGEOT 108 is £0.

The all-new Jaguar XF: lighter, more efficient and packed with technology

▲ The all-new Jaguar XF

THE all-new Jaguar XF brings an unrivalled blend of design, luxury, technology and efficiency to lead the business car segment, underpinned by class-leading driving dynamics and refinement and impressive total cost of ownership.

The dynamic, coupé-like design is formed around Jaguar's aluminium-intensive architecture and combines the outstanding proportions, elegant surfaces and perfect lines which define all Jaguar cars, with a longer wheelbase, more interior space and exceptionally low aerodynamic drag yet in a lower and shorter body than the car it replaces.

The cabin is a seamless blend of contemporary luxury materials and finishes, traditional Jaguar craftsmanship and state-of-the art technology, with features such as a reconfigurable 12.3-inch TFT instrument cluster, laser head-up display and the InControl Touch Pro premium infotainment system – the all-new XF is the most connected Jaguar ever.

The 2007 XF was a radical step forward for Jaguar – and for the business car segment. Combining a sleek, coupé-like exterior and a luxurious interior, it set the class benchmark for aesthetics and driving dynamics.

Features such as the rotary shift controller, rotating air vents and phosphor blue ambient lighting set the cabin apart from the competition and made the XF a highly desirable, aspirational vehicle. It was like nothing Jaguar had ever made before, and like nothing the competition could offer. The XF went on to become the most-awarded Jaguar ever.

The all-new XF retains its predecessor's core attributes, but uses Jaguar's aluminium-intensive architecture to enable weight savings of up to 190kg – making the 163PS diesel model 80kg lighter than the nearest competitor – plus an increase in torsional stiffness of up to 28 per cent. The architecture also delivers dramatic improvements in packaging and the proportions so essential to Jaguar design.

The all-new XF is 4,954mm long: at 2,960 the wheelbase is 51mm longer than before, the front overhang 66mm shorter. Though 7mm shorter and 3mm lower than the original XF, rear seat space is class-leading thanks to 15mm more legroom, 24mm more kneeroom and up to 27mm more headroom than before. Aerodynamics are also superior: the drag coefficient drops from 0.29 to just 0.26.

The light, stiff body is also fundamental to the all-new XF's superb vehicle dynamics. Double wishbone front suspension and Integral Link rear suspension – combined with near-50:50 weight distribution – deliver the ideal balance between ride and handling.

Adopting Electric Power Assisted Steering (EPAS) maintains Jaguar's leadership in steering feel but also reduces fuel consumption by up to two per cent and three per cent for diesel and petrol models respectively. EPAS also enables functions such as camber compensation and advanced driver assistance systems including lane-keep assist, driver condition monitoring and bay- and parallel park-assist.

Advanced passive damper technology delivers exceptional ride quality as standard through an extra valve which reduces damping forces at low speeds. For even better control the Adaptive Dynamics system monitors body movement 100 times a second and wheel movement 500 times a second to determine the optimum damper settings for the driving conditions.

Jaguar Configurable Dynamics technology, optional on all V6 models, provides the ultimate in control and enables the driver to individually tailor settings of the dampers, steering, engine and eight-speed automatic transmission.

All-Surface Progress Control, developed for low-speed driving in adverse conditions, automatically manages the brakes and the throttle to deliver the best possible traction, enabling the car to pull away smoothly and without drama: the driver only has to steer. ASPC operates between 3.6km/h and 30km/h, and the desired speed is set by the driver using the cruise control switches (Automatic transmission only).

Infotainment and connectivity is the most advanced Jaguar has ever offered. The all-new InControl Touch Pro system builds on the intuitive user interface of InControl Touch, and supports all the same features – including InControl Apps, InControl Remote and Wi-Fi hotspot – but offers a 10.2-inch touchscreen and Dual View technology which simultaneously allows the driver to see information such as navigation, while the front seat passenger watches TV or a DVD.

Recognise early danger signs in senior drivers, GEM urges family members

ROAD SAFETY and breakdown cover specialist GEM Motoring Assist is encouraging family members to be wise to the early signs of unsafe driving in their senior relatives.

There are more than four million drivers aged over 70 in the UK. Many are still driving in their 90s, and nearly 200 centenarians still hold licences.

GEM chief executive David Williams MBE comments: "We want as many people as possible to enjoy the freedom of the open road for as long as possible, but only while they are safe.

"Warning signs relating to failing health or reduced ability can develop slowly and gradually in older drivers. This often means they won't be aware of their changing actions or the growing risks they may pose – to themselves and to others - on journeys.

"The only requirement in law for any driver aged over 70 is to declare every three years that they are fit to drive. In the absence of re-testing and mandatory eyesight checks, it's vital that family members and friends are willing to keep an eye on their senior relatives – and take appropriate action if anything causes them concern."

GEM suggests the following signs that suggest a high risk of danger with a requirement for immediate action: 'Close calls' – or 'oops factor' moments where a crash almost happens, dents and scrapes on the car as a result of hitting fences, posts or kerbs or traffic penalty tickets, such as speeding and red traffic light violations.

GEM also advises family members and friends to look out for the following common signs that could indicate an increase in the risks posed by a senior driver. Most are minor on their own, but can combine to present a significantly increased risk: Difficulty seeing traffic lights and road signs, reduced awareness of drivers coming from the side or the rear, not reacting to an approaching emergency siren, slow reaction when required to brake or alter direction suddenly, confusing the accelerator and brake pedals, erratic decision-making, getting flustered or angry over minor matters, difficulty looking over shoulders to check before pulling out, missing familiar exits or turnings, drifting in and out of lanes on motorways and dual carriageways, failing to indicate correctly (or at all) & failing to cancel an indicator.

"If you decide that there is good reason to be concerned about a senior relative, then try to have an informal, friendly chat. If your relative is unwilling to have that conversation, you could attempt to inform their GP, or all else fails, you could report them to the DVLA. You can do this anonymously if you wish," says David Williams.

"Safety has to be everyone's priority, even if you risk upsetting someone close to you. The potential consequences of not acting are ultimately much, much worse."

GEM's recently-published resource, Still Safe to Drive, gives a range of practical advice to help senior drivers stay as safe as possible for as long as possible. Take a look at www.stillsafetodrive.org.uk

Sailing

Prestigeous week a success

LYME Regis Sailing club hosted the CoastWaterSports and Zhik National Championships for Scorpions from the 8th to the 14th of August.

This was the key event in the club's calendar and once again put Lyme on the map as being one of the premier dinghy sailing venues in the country.

Principal Race Officer Allan Tyler was in charge on Dan Jaffe's yacht 'Goodwill', supported by four mark boats and six safety boats.

Nine of the scheduled 10 races were sailed over the week despite of the weather being far from ideal.

Fifty eight Scorpion dinghies competed in conditions that ranged from perfect north easterly breezes to weather that was more typical of late autumn with strong south-westerlies and big seas.

The event was won by Andy McKee & Chris Massey from Dovestone Sailing Club but it was tight at the top all week with seven different race winners, and one point separating first and second overall.

Lyme Regis boats did well, notably Chris Turner & Alex Hayman in 4th and Tim Parsons & Andy Davis in 6th.

Hosting National Championships forms a key part of the club's role of encouraging amateur sailing with over 70 members involved on and off the water.

A spokesman for LRSC said: "We would like to thank the Harbour master and staff without whose support we could have not run this very successful week, and all harbour users for their co-operation.

"We are also grateful for sponsorship from local chandlers CoastWaterSports of Axminster and clothing company Zhik."

Fowler a cut above!

By Howard Larcombe

LYME Regis Golf Club member Kieron Fowler shot five birdies in a four under par 68 in the opening round of the PGA EuroPro Tour competition at Slaley Hall, Northumberland last week.

The 20-year-old then backed up his fine start with a par round to successfully make the cut for the first time in his short career on the tour.

Unfortunately for all concerned the deciding third round was washed out by wet weather.

So the final result was taken over the two completed rounds leaving Fowler in a tie for 22nd place and a cash reward of £445.

Lyme Regis Gig racing

Lyme clinch creditable third on home waters

LYME Regis Gig Club recently play host to the next round of the gig racing calendar.

In a complete contrast to last year, this year`s event was held under a blue sky with very little wind.

An almost calm sea afforded some great racing conditions, although after the Ladies and Mens Supervets race had taken place, the increasing air temperatures together with little or no wind on the water, made the course considerably more demanding than usual.

From a safety perspective, a decision was made following this race to shorten the course.

Preceding this a field of 10 boats entered was the Junior event, which was held over a shorter course.

The Lyme crew in `Tempest` started well, settling in to the leading pack eventually finishing second behind another partial Lyme crew who helped Bridport`s `Dagger` cross the line in 1st position.

The Ladies & Men`s Supervets race earned Lyme a very respectable 4th position in each of their respective races.

In the Ladies A category Lyme`s boat `Rebel` with a composite crew from the Newquay club, topped up with rowers from other clubs, took the lead with Ilfracombe and Swanage in hot pursuit.

The Lyme crew finished in 11th position, ahead of Hampshire-based Hayling Island.

In the Men`s A event Lyme`s `Rebel` eventually broke free.

Again, this boat was crewed by a strong Newquay contingent together with other club members who were available. In their wake would be the Weymouth crew in followed by Lyme Regis in 'Tempes' and this is how they finished.

The Ladies B were next off the blocks. Again with rowers from Newquay, declared as a composite crew, 'Rebel' was quickly into an early lead.

Staying within reach of them for most of the course were Brixham and Weymouth the Lyme crew in 'Tempest' finished ahead of Sidmouth and Bristol in 10th position.

Lyme's crew looked likely contenders in the C race as they settled into the leading pack with Weymouth, Brixham in and Ilfracombe. It was the Brixham crew who crossed the line to take 1st position with Lyme finishing in an impressive 4th.

The Men`s B crews were next on the start line. This race also took in a composite crew, racing in Lyme`s Rebel who eventually finished in third spot behind Brixham and Weymouth.

Much white water was exchanged coming off the start line as the Mens C crews fought to gain an early lead. The Teign crew were among the front runners which included Lyme`s `Tempest`, Bristol and Ilfracombe.

The latter crossed the line first with Lyme in third.

Testament to the fact that rowing is good for all ages was borne by the Sidmouth club, as their boat had a rower of 87 years old.

With only three races to go, the top five crews of Weymouth, Lyme, Brixham, Ilfracombe and Bridport were emerging as serious contenders.

The Ladies Vets saw Weymouth, Torridge and Bridport take the podium in that order.

The penultimate race was the Mens Vets which saw Ilfracombe, Lyme Regis and Brixham break away from the pack to take the finishing line in this order ahead of Weymouth, Portland and Bridport.

close finish

The last race - The Mixed crews – was to be the decider. This included a composite crew from Newquay and others and they set the pace.

But hunting them down were Swanage, Ilfracombe, Bristol and Weymouth. But it was Swanage who took the lead with Ilfracombe, Brixham and Weymouth crossing in this order.

Final standings;1st Weymouth, 2nd Ilfracombe, 23rd Lyme Regis,

◆ Lyme Regis Gig Club would like to thank all of their sponsors for their support and all the harbour users; the fishermen, sailors, powerboaters, etc, for being so supportive throughout the day .

Thanks also to Grahame Foreshaw (Harbourmaster) and all his team for all their help.

Bridport Indoor bowls

Firs knocked off top

SYLVIA and Mike Fletcher & Mel Hargett's Dogwoods have knocked the Firs off the top of the Morning League.

The match between the two was locked at 8-8 before Dogwoods won it with a four count on the last end 2.8.

Cedars head the pack on shot difference despite losing to Reg Dodd, Barry Mapson & Bernard Winton's Gum Trees 10-4.

Last placed Alders pocket dynamo Nova Varney had a fantastic game as they whipped Junipers 19-7.

A late five count gave Tony Sharood, Ann Parkins & Millie Meech's Hazels a 10-6 win over Beeches.

Rosie and Martin Wilton & Peter Varney's Larches ended 11-9 up against Kingswoods.

Lyn Craddock, Keith Hicks & David Drake's Jack Russells roared back to form with a 22-5 win over Airdales and are now snapping at the heels of the leading Foxhounds of Mary Hansford, Mike Parsons & Paul Hallett

Who were 20-11 winners against the Dalmations.

Lyn and Peter Sandall & Ivor Parker's Beagles had an early seven count on their way to a 20-11 win over Harriers.

Gordon Lee, Geoff Neal & Andy Marsh's Collies went 9-0 up against Great Danes before finally winning 13-8.

Ann Harris, Brian Toms & Mike Craddock's Kerry Blues finished 1,2 to draw with Brian Baker, Gerry Moss and Margaret Pestelle's Labradors 11-11.

Mitchem stars as Dorchester beat title chasers

Dorset Premier

DORCHESTER 140-3 BEAT BROADSTONE 139 ALL OUT BY SEVEN WICKETS

DORCHESTER comfortably saw off title challengers Broadstone as they clocked up their 6th win of the summer.

Broadstone had a small chance of pipping Poole and Sherborne to the Dorset Premier title but were easily swept aside at the Dorchester rec, as the home side bounced back after defeat in their previous match.

Dorchester captain Simon Mitchem won the toss, and after the week's downpours, chose to bowl first on a pitch full of moisture.

The Broadstone batting order crumbled under some excellent bowling with only three players reaching double figures as six of the seven Dorchester bowlers picked up wickets.

Broadstone middle order batsman Carlyle Collins showed some staying power at his teammates fell around, Collins was finally dismissed three short of his half century from the bowling of Pete Moxom.

Broadstone were finally bowled out for 139 with Moxom taking the best figures of the day with 2 for 12.

The wicket dried out in the afternoon just as the Dorchester openers walked out to start their innings, and the opening pair, Will Caldwell and Moxom, benefitted from the changing wicket as they put on 29 before Moxom (17) was bowled by Steve Trembath.

Captain Mitchem joined Caldwell at the crease and the two players enjoyed a fantastic partnership of 69 as Dorchester inched toward three figures.

Caldwell fell for 45 after being trapped lbw by Om Ramchandani and Dan Belt, returned to the pavilion pretty quickly after being dismissed lbw without troubling the scoreboard.

Mitchem (64no) and Ian Legg finished off the innings within 40 overs to gain the full 20 league points, to move them ahead of local rivals Martinstown.

Dorchester will finish the season with a match against Parley at Dean Park on August 22nd.

WEYMOUTH 156 LOST TO SWANAGE 216 BY 60 RUNS

AFTER recording their first win of the season last week Weymouth failed to build on any momentum and suffered their 15th defeat of the season at home to Swanage.

The home side put the visitors into bat and got off to a great start reducing Swanage to 21 for 3.

However, opener Dan Salmon showed his staying power and plenty of skill as he hit an excellent 72 including 10 boundaries before falling to the fast bowling of Alex Mortimore.

Jem Warner passed 50, batting at number six before being caught out via a combination of Will McKay's bowling and captain Kieron Womble's safe hands.

No other batsmen reached 20 at Swanage were bowled out after 49 overs for 216.

The new ball partnership pairing also recorded impressive figures; David Trotter produced an economical 10 over spell picking up 1-15, while youngster Harry Mitchell took 3-63.

◆ HALF CENTURY: Jim Ryall made 56 in Weymouth defeat

Weymouth's chase started poorly with Will McKay and Dom Webb falling cheaply to leave the bottom-of-the-table team at 5-2. Joe James went soon after, but a resilient display from Womble and Jim Ryall gave the seasiders hope.

They built a partnership of 70 runs to move the score into a strong position at 122-3.

The pivotal moment came soon after though when captain Womble was run out looking for a quick single. Ryall followed his captain back to the pavilion for 56 and with the tail failing to wag Weymouth were bowled out for 156 leaving them 60 runs short.

Swanage left-armer Rob Hatchard recorded excellent figures of 3-26 while opening bowler Mike Hernandez took of 2-17.

Although the defeat will have stung, the already relegated Weymouth bowled and fielded excellently and were unlucky to be on the wrong end of the score line.

Next up for Weymouth is an away trip to Stalbridge on August 22nd.

SHERBORNE 249-5 BEAT MARTINSTOWN 97 ALL OUT BY FIVE WICKETS

SHERBORNE carried on their march towards the Dorset Premier title with a dominant win over lowly Martinstown.

Martinstown won the toss and sent Sherborne into bat, a mistake that proved costly as the home side showed their class posting an imposing total 249-5 from their 50 overs.

Marc Lock scored 59 as useful partnerships were built down the order to put Sherborne into a commanding position.

The visitors came out to bat but were met by a strong Sherborne bowling attack who knocked off the 10 wickets in 32.4 overs, gaining their 14th win of the summer.

Sherborne Captain Paul Hancock was the pick of the bowlers after taking three wickets for 21 runs in an impressive display.

Martinstown will finish their season at home to Poole Town on August 22nd.

County Division Three

BEAMINSTER 155-4 BEAT POOLE TOWN 3RDS 152-8 BY FOUR WICKETS

Beaminster secured a vital away victory in a relegation battle against Poole Town 3rds.

Dave Percy was the hero as his inspired spell of bowling returned figures of 6-25 restricting Poole Town to a below par score of 152 from their 45 overs.

After winning the toss, Poole elected to bat on an extremely wet wicket, and despite the surprising choice, the opening batsmen scored freely against good bowling from the Beaminster new ball bowlers.

Change bowlers Ady Phillips and Simon Jones took the first wickets of the day and proceeded to bowl excellent spells, as Jones only conceded 12 runs from his nine overs and took one wicket.

Poole's middle order tried to show their battling spirit the introduction of paceman Percy changed the game causing a massive collapse that restricted Poole's total to 152 after 45 overs, a tricky total to try and defend.

In reply, Beaminster lost Hugh Rathbone (0) and Simon Jones (5) early on before Rich Runyard (54) and Ross Baker (34) compiled an excellent 75 run partnership.

Runyard scored his first half-century of the season and looked in fine touch.

Ross Baker dug in and played a vital role before being run out needlessly by Will Everitt (35no). Despite this set back, Adam Herring (10no) joined Everitt and calmly ensured Beaminster reached their target in the 41st over.

DORCHESTER 2NDS 195 FOR 3 BEAT WAREHAM 194 BY SEVEN WICKETS

DORCHESTER 2nds consolidated their third position in the league with a dominant win over bottom of the table Wareham.

Wareham posted 194-5 from their full 45 over allocation and Dorchester had no trouble chasing that down as they posted 195-3 in just 33.5 overs.

Dorchester 2nds last fixture is at home to Sturminster Marshall and there is still a possibility of finishing second in the league.

County Division Four

ABBOTSBURY 292-6 BEAT HAMWORTH RECREATION 2NDS 208-6 BY 84 RUNS

ABBOTSBURY picked up their 11th win of the season as they put on a dominant batting display against lowly Hamworthy Recreation.

Abbotsbury went to the Hamworthy club with an outside chance of winning Division Four and did their ambitions no harm after home captain Stuart Peters sent Abbotsbury into bat.

Although at one point the side were 30-4, Captain Simon Pengelly and Chas Duerdoth put on a stand of 203 with Duerdoth scoring 156 in a superb all round performance which later saw him pickup three wickets for 32 runs later in the day.

◆ GOOD KNOCK: Simon Pengelly score 56 in a huge stand

Abbotsbury posted an impressive total after their 40 overs of 292-6 with captain Pengelly remaining unbeaten on 52.

Abbotsbury took to the field to defend the big total and took wickets at regular intervals to restrict the home side to 208 in their 40 overs.

Wicketkeeper Eddie Wilson hit an unbeaten 72 as Hamworthy Recreation tried to chase down the total and while Gordon Frazier (39) and Harry Poole (28) also contributed Hamworthy still found themselves 84 runs short of the win.

But the day belonged to Chas Duerdoth, and Abbotsbury after a sublime performance with both bat and ball.

County Division Five

CHARLTON DOWN 135-7 BEAT CHALKE VALLEY 134-9 BY TWO WICKETS

CHARLTON Down moved to within two points of promotion with a close fought victory against an experienced Chalke Valley team.

Debutant Roger Frapwell took a large amount of the plaudits as he hit an excellent half-century which helped the league leaders over the line.

Charlton Down won the toss and chose to bowl on a pitch that certainly favoured the bowling team.

Matt and Dan Stevens opened the bowling and produced a fantastic display of pace and swing bowling and it was Matt who made the first break through taking the wicket of the dangerous Harry Hutchings (13).

◆ AMONG THE WICKETS: Nick Voss took 3 for 5

The bowler then produced a series of tempting out swingers to Chalke Valley captain Andy Mercer who finally nicked one into the expectant gloves of Wicketkeeper Rob Deadman.

Kev Monoghan and Steve Warrack offered some resistance to the bowling of the Charlton pacemen but spinner Kim Park came on and changed the game. After bowling Monoghan (32) he brilliantly trapped Warrack (13) lbw to leave the score on 74-4 at drinks.

Nick Voss (3-5) and Pete Tucker (1-15) then caused a middle order collapse as Chalke Valley fell from 99-4 to 106-7.

Some defiant tail end hitting from Dave White and Pete Cooper eventually moved the score forward to 134-9.

Charlton Down's run chase started with a stutter as Harry Hutchigs took the first two wickets in the eighth over leaving the away side on 20 for 2.

However, a Match defining partnership of 63 between Frapwell and Matt Stevens (27) moved the tie towards Charlton favour.

A mini collapse towards the end of this engaging encounter made things a bit tenser. Park, Frapwell and Javed Gill all fell to Mercer, but runs from Rob Rutter, plus two wides in the penultimate over won them the game and took Charlton Down ever closer to Division Four.

Charlton Down will close the season out with two matches first against Cerne Valley 2nds on August 22nd and Broadstone 3rds on August 29th.

County Division Six

BERE REGIS 2NDS 103-4 BEAT BEAMINSTER 2NDS 101 ALL OUT BY SIX WICKETS

BEAMINSTER were well and truly beaten by a dominant display by champions elect Bere Regis 2nds.

Bere won the toss and sent Beaminster into bat an inspired decision as Alan Lambert (11-3) and Jacob White (22-3) produced the bowling figures of the day as Beaminster were skittled out for 101 after 33 overs.

Bradley Moss also took three wickets as the hosts showed why they've been the best team in Division six this summer.

They took no time in knocking off the score as the achieved 103-4 in just 24 overs and although they did lose four wickets the result was never really in doubt as Jacob Lambert hit 30no to win the match.

Star Players of the Week

■ Dorchester captain Simon Mitchem – Mitchem won the coin toss and chose to bowl first on a pitch that favoured Dorchester's bowlers.

He himself took 2 for 26 and led his team to victory with an excellent 64no. A real captain's performance.

■ Dave Percy – The Beaminster paceman took excellent figures of 6-25 as his individual brilliance turned the game of it's head as Beaminster chalked up a vital away win.

■ Chas Duerdoth – Duerdoth hit a Brilliant 156 and later took three wickets in a superb performance for title chasing Abbotsbury.

A LYME Regis XI had to come from behind twice on Wednesday evening before finally beating off the challenge of Netherbury and secure a place in the last four of the Edwards Charity Cup- writes Howard Larcombe.

The hosts took the lead when Ryan Gay latched on to a stray pass in the Lyme defence and fired past Chris Higgs from 20 yards.

The Seasiders levelled when a disputed free kick was curled to the far post where Steve Batey finished well.

Back came the Ambers, and some good link-up play between Jon-Paul Avery and Kristian Steward was rewarded when Mark Cuff ghosted past his marker and slotted home.

Batey bagged a second for Lyme when he pounced on a scuffed clearance and fired home a low fizzer from the edge of the box.

The winner came 15 minutes from time when Rhys Hayter found strike partner Joe Bond unmarked at the far post.

Heads up! Byerley nods to victory

Bridport 1 Buckland Athletic 0
Toolstation League Prem – att; 108

BRIDPORT got their Toolstation Western League Premier Division campaign up and running thanks to an early Warren Byerley header at St Mary's on Tuesday evening.

The Bees, looking to bounce back from the previous weekend's devastating 5-4 defeat at Bristol Manor Farm, bagged the all-important winner in the sixth minute when Byerley nodded home.

Both sides crafted further chances in a fluid opening 45 but the Bees trotted into the break with their slender lead intact.

The visitors, fresh from thrashing new boys Cribbs 6-1 in their opening game, peppered the hosts' six-yard box as they took control of the second period.

There was late drama when it appeared the equaliser had been scored only for the referee to rule the 'goal' out after spotting a foul on Bridport keeper Ashley Weeks.

Weeks then proceeded to make two superb saves in the dying embers of a fine game.

AFTER getting off to a winning start on Saturday, three first half goals saw Bridport Reserves come crashing back down to earth up at Cockrams on Wednesday evening.

Inside the first minute former Gillingham and Chard Town striker Taoufik Ben Salem, on debut, raced on to a through ball before slotting home.

Five minutes later it was 2-0. Rockies skipper Matt Chant weaved past a trio of Bees before playing in Lee Gale who outmuscled his marker before firing past keeper Lee Cleal.

The Bees gloveman was in action again soon after saving on the line to deny Szymon Matuszewski.

But Cleal was powerless to stop Gale making it 3-0 before the break with a superb shot into the top corner following a one-two with Matuszewski.

The scoring was completed after the turnaround when Weeks found Matuszewski who made no mistake.

BRIDPORT led twice at St Mary's on Saturday but ultimately let two valuable points slip as they were pegged back by Swanage.

After a goal less first half Josh Jack Scovell put Bridport soon after the restart only for Sam Beale to equalise for the visitors.

Undeterred, Josh Hunter edged the Bees ahead late on, but there was still time for Russell Tickner snatch as point for the Swans in the 89th minute.

Superb week for busy Lyme bowlers

By Paul Moffitt

IT'S been a very busy, and successful, week for the Club with wins for the Ladies and men in the Dorset Leagues.

Unfortunately, Lyme 2 didn't join in the success scrambling just a single point away at Dorchester.

The Ladies were back to winning ways with a fine 10-0 result at home to West Moors. The highlight of the week must surely be Lyme 1's huge 104-25 win away at Wellworthy. With all rinks in scintillating form, the final score line is probably a club record for a league side.

More success for the ladies came when they won their second round tie in the June Culpin Trophy. Playing a strong two-rink squad from Branksome Park they edged home by seven shots and are now through to the semi-finals to be played at West Moors on September 4th.

Last Saturday the club hosted the annual Ladies Invitation Triples Tournament which attracted 22 teams from across the county. The eventual winners, after all the teams had played three 55 minute sessions, were Broadstone Wessex who overcame Wellworthy in the final played over nine ends.

A superb lunch was laid on by catering manager Pauline Knight and her merry band of helpers. The winners and runners-up were presented with their prizes by this year's sponsors, Lesley Broom and Nola Stephens.

In the friendlies, it was played three won three..

Bridport Runners will take you 'from couch to 5k'

Bridport Runners have launched a new beginners group for anyone wanting to start running, but who are lacking confidence and training.

'From couch to 5k' is a six week course designed to get anyone fit to run five kilometers – approximately three miles – without stopping, regardless of having little or no training before.

Having organised the course three times previously, members of Bridport Runners received clear evidence of the success of the course with all in the group easily managing five kilometers after a few sessions and some going longer distances.

Many of the beginners from the first courses have gone on to run quarter marathons, half marathons and local organised runs.

The new class starts on Wednesday, September 9th at 5.45pm at Bridport Football Club car park, opposite Bridport Leisure Centre.

It will take place every Wednesday night from 6pm to 7pm until the middle of October.

The training will be organised by two qualified leaders and all novices will receive a gentle introduction into running.

They will not only be trained in finding the right running style, but in gaining endurance and speed as well.

For the last session, beginners will be invited to take part in the five kilometer Weymouth Parkrun.

The cost of the course is £12, which will be refunded if the participant chooses to join Bridport Runners afterwards.

To find out more or to take part in the course, contact Bridport Runners' chair Brian Shelley or one of the qualified leaders on the contacts page of the Bridport Runners website, www.bridport-runners.co.uk

Title hopes look to be over

by Howard Larcombe
howard@pemedia.co.uk

UPLYME & LYME REGIS Cricket Club 1st XI were on the wrong end of a league double as they tasted defeat for the first time in two months in the Tolchard's Devon League.

Skipper Steve Batey and his team must thought a victory was on the horizon as they dismissed the visitors Clyst Hydon for 127.

The wickets were shared between Batey (3 for 22), Ollie Lee (2 for 12), Adam Caddy (2 for 24) and Rich O'Halloran (2 for 30).

But Clyst, who triumphed in the reverse fixture back in June, had other ideas with James Billington taking 5 for 23 and Sri Lankan Danny Haturusingha 3 for 19 as Uplyme were shot out for just 83 with Lee (23) top-scoring.

With just five points being banked from the defeat, Uplyme's hope of snatching the Division C title from long-time leaders Ottery St Mary are all but over.

With just two games remaining The Otters - needing just nine points to clinch the title - appear to be home and dry.

For Uplyme the target is now 14 points from their last two games to secure a promotion play-off against the Division C (west) runners-up who look likely to be Bridestowe.

Saturday's fixtures; Filleigh v 1st XI, 2nds v Shobrooke Park 2nds .

Win raises hopes

THERE was better news from the Uplyme & Lyme Regis 2nd XI who clambered out of the Division C (east) drop zone with a comfortable seven wicket win at drop rivals Whimple 2nds.

Alex Lee bagged f or 13 and Liam Thomas3 for 27 as the hosts were rolled over for 86.

In reply, Uplyme lost the experienced pair of Dave Norman (4) and Rob Thom (4) cheaply. But a match-winning 57no from Alfie Bellworthy saw them over the line.

The team need 31 points from their remaining two games to avoid relegation.
